BIG STRIKE ENDS

Boston Freight Handlers and Sympathizers Return to Work Today.

A PROMPT SETTLEMENT

Governor Crane, Backed By the Merchants of Boston Brought Opposing Merchant to Time.

Twenty Thousand Men Go Back to Work and Business Is Resumed
With a Rush.

Boston, March 14.—Through the united efforts of representatives of the great mercantile bodies of the city, seconded by the chief executives of city and state in conference with the recognized leaders of organized labor, the great strike of freight handlers and kindred trades represented in the Allied Freight Transportation Council, was broken last night. Fully 20,000 men who have been idle for four days returned to work this morning.

This result was attained at a conference last evening at the office of Governor Crane. The decision was at once reported to the Allied Freight Transportation council at a special meeting last night and unanimously endorsed.

The settlement was the result of an expressed determination of Governor Crane and those representing the merchants of Boston to bring all possible pressure to bear upon the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company to adopt the rules in force upon the Boston & Maine railroad, forbidding freight handlers to unload teams except at their own option and risk.
All of the old men for whom places could be found were taken back by the railroads today, but owing to the suddenness with which the strike was ended and the large number of new men who have been installed, it is likely that many of the old employees will find no vacancies ready for them.
Eventually it is believed they will all regain their old positions. Teamsters and longshoremen found an unprecedented demand for their services, as traffic of all descriptions, which has been virtually at a standstill for the past three or four days, was resumed with a rush.

The Brine Transportation company, the loading and unloading of whose non-union teams precipitated the strike of the New York, New Haven & Hartford freight handlers, does not appear to have figured in the settlement of the present controversy, and as far as that company is concerned, the settlement against it on the part of the labor unions is as bitter as ever.
Under the new arrangement, however, union men will not be required to load or unload that company's teams.

Mrs. Payne III.
Chicago, March 14.—Mrs. Henry C.
Payne, wife of the postmaster general, is ill at the Auditorium Annex. Mrs.

MRS. HENRY C. PAYNE

Payne arrived here last night from Washington on the way to her home in Milwaukee. A sudden indisposition compelled her to go to the hotel instead of continuing her journey.

Discussing the Treaty.
Copenhagen, March 14.—The treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States came up for the first time in open session in the folketing yesterday. The premier and foreign minister, Dr. Deunter, replying to several speakers, said Denmark acted in the best interests of the islanders in negotiating the treaty. Denmark, in fact, was merely receiving compensation for her obligations in connection with the islands.
The United States has acted in the best faith and with friendliness throughout the negotiations. The minister felt assured the great republic could and would give the islands a better position in the world than they had enjoyed before.

Trouble Is Feared.
Copenhagen, March 14.—Confidential reports received here from the Danish West Indies declare there is intense excitement among the negroes of those islands over the sale, owing to their belief that it will mean universal suffrage and office holding.
There are fears of insurrection and serious trouble, according to these reports, if the treaty is defeated.

A "SPIRITS" ADVICE

Ghost of Judge Lotz Counselled Plaintiff to Dismiss Suit.

Muncie, Ind., March 14.—The charge of obtaining money under false promises and grand larceny brought against William H. Thompson, a former Muncie business man, by Miss Sarah Williams was dismissed in the circuit court yesterday. Thompson threatens to retaliate with a big damage suit. Six months ago Charles Hawkins, a goodlooking bartender, was charged with procuring $4,000 from Miss Williams, who is a maiden lady of 52 years, on a promise of marriage. Hawkins secured apartments at the Williams home and made love to Miss Williams. She reciprocated and soon afterwards mortgaged her farm to loan Hawkins the money to engage in business near Detroit. He left immediately and has not since been located. It was claimed that Thompson, a friend of the Williams family, had assisted in arranging the deal whereby Miss Williams' farm was mortgaged for Hawkins' benefit.
Thompson was one of the lucky persons in the recent Oklahoma government land drawing and secured a fine farm near Lawton. The detectives went to Oklahoma and arrested him.
He was brought to Muncie and furnished bond, but claims that his arrest resulted in him losing his land claim, being unable to make the required improvements. This fact, he claims, will make grounds for his damage suit.
Thompson and the Williams family are devout spiritualists. Prosecutor Deary says that the suit was dismissed at the instance of Miss Williams since developments made a few nights ago at a spiritualistic seance.

The late Judge O. J. Lotz, a former member of the appellate court, was a member of the law firm which represented Miss Williams in the prosecution of Thompson. It is said that at the spiritual seance Judge Lotz came back in spirit form and advised Miss Williams to dismiss the suit against Thompson. She has a wealthy brother in Anderson and one in Louisville, both business men.

LEGALLY DEAD

Therefore John Younger Cannot Enter Into a Marriage Contract.

St. Paul, March 14.—Jim Younger wants to get married. He cannot because he is legally dead; hence is unable to enter into any contract.
Younger submitted the question of whether or not he could wed to Gov.
VanSant, who has looked into the matter with some surprising results.
In Minnesota a man who is a life prisoner is civilly dead. The only way he can make any binding contract, in the eyes of the law, is through the board which paroled him—in this case the state board of control, which board is empowered to enter into a contract for him. It is not probable, however, that the three members of the board of control, separately or as a whole, will agree to enter into a marriage contract with any woman for the benefit of the paroled life convict.

The only way for Jim Younger to become a married man in Minnesota is to get a pardon which will restore him to the rights of a living citizen.
Another phase of the law is that neither Jim Younger nor his brother Cole if they establish any business of their own, as has been contemplated, can be held for any debts which they may incur. In his application to the governor requesting information as to his rights to marry, Younger said nothing regarding the proposed bride.

BREAK IN RELATIONS

Madrid, March 14.—Although it is said in official circles here that Bel-lany Storer, United States minister to Spain, who has left for America on account of the failure of the negotiations for a treaty of friendship will come back in six months, the general impression is that the minister will not return to Spain.

Congressional

Washington, March 14.—The house yesterday closed general debate on the postoffice appropriation bill and completed consideration of 12 of the 27 pages of the bill. After the passage of a considerable number of unobjec-tionable bills the senate resumed consideration of the ship subsidy measure.

Seeking Heirs.

Sleepy Eye, Minn., March 14.—M. J.
Durham of Middletown, N. Y., is here to find two heirs to the Leonard Case estate, now before the probate court of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, which is estimated to be worth $80,000,000.

SEEKING HARMONY

Cuban Tariff Differences May Soon Be Amicably Adjusted.

ARBITRATION IN SIGHT

Committee of Conferees Appointed to Harmonize the Differences Now Existing in the House.

Element Opposing the Ways and Means Committee Adopted a Course of Action.

Washington, March 14.—Late yesterday afternoon the work of harmonizing the conflict over Cuban recipi-city had progressed so far that a committee of conferees, or arbitration, representing the two sides of the controversy assembled to frame a compromise agreement. The meeting occurred in the private quarters of the ways and means room with Chairman Payne and Representatives Dalzell and Cannon present in behalf of the ways and means reciprocity element, while five members of the opposition, namely Representatives Metcalf of California, Dick and Taylor of Ohio, Fordney of Michigan and Morris of Minnesota acted as arbitrators in behalf of the Republicans who have resisted the ways and means original plan of 20 per cent reciprocity for an unlimited period. The conference lasted about two hours and was not productive of final results, an adjournment being taken until 2 p. m. today.
All plans of compromise which have been suggested were reviewed, particularly that limiting the reciprocity period until December, 1903. Beyond discussing the several plans, no action was taken. When the conference closed it was stated that the discussion had been along such harmonious lines that an agreement seemed assured. Chairman Payne and his associates seemed to be less confident than the other conferees that an agreement was in sight.

Prior to the meeting of the arbitrators, the element opposing the ways and means plan assembled to determine on a course of action. It was decided to name five conferees instead of three, in order to make the body more representative of the various sections interested. It also was decided not to give the conferees final power to make terms, but only to consider and report back. This precaution was taken in order that there might be a full understanding of the compromise plan by all of those who opposed the original ways and means plan. Representative Tawney of Minnesota, who directed the contest at the outset, was asked to go on the conference, but he declined and instead nominated the committee of five subsequently named by the committee on conference.

HORRIBLE SUSPICION

Did Texas Murder Gang Feed Victims to Alligators?

Beaumont, Tex., March 14.—John Welch, a white man who has been implicated by Mattie Bennett, the confessed negro leader of the gang of robbers and murderers that has been operating here, was brought to Beaumont yesterday, having been arrested at Houston on the strength of the woman's confession. Welch denies complicity in the murders. He was an iron molder employed in the foundry where Benjamin Pearson, one of the murdered men, worked. In jail the Bennett woman talked freely. She confessed everything except direct murder, saying that her part was to drug men enticed into her house, and members of the gang would then beat them into insensibility and rob them.

The Neches river, where five bodies of supposed victims of the gang were found, skirts the town of Beaumont.
It is about 150 feet wide and 30 feet deep. In some places swamps run back. A body thrown into the swamps stands small chance of being found.
The alligators would devour them. If it is true that 50 persons have disappeared from Beaumont, this may be the solution of the mystery of the missing bodies.

The case in some of its features recalls the Bender family murders in Louisiana some 30 years ago. The Benders for months entrapped travelers and killed them. The family consisted of a man and his wife and their grown daughter. When the murders were finally discovered the Benders fled.

Had a Duplicate Key

Chicago, March 14.—One of the most daring of recent postoffice thefts committed in a crowded downtown streets is now engaging the attention of local postal officials. Someone, by means of a duplicate key, opened a mail wagon last night and extracted a registered mail sack. The contents of the pouch are estimated to be of the value of $1,700. The robbery was committed in front of the Masonic Temple in State street as hundreds were passing.

Emperor to Meet Prince.

Berlin, March 14.—Emperor William on board the battleship Wilhelm II and accompanied by two or three other warships, may meet the North German Lloyd steamer Deutschland at sea and transship Prince Henry to the German war vessel.

BURKE AND THE NEGROES

Man Who Wanted to Be Governor
Don't Like Black Faces.

Indianapolis, March 14.—At the close of the convention for the reorganization of the Democratic county committee late yesterday afternoon Frank Burke, who ran for congress two years ago against Representative Overstreet, and who is one of the leading Democrats of Indiana, made a speech that has created something of a sensation among politicians. The Republicans are tickled half to death about it, as many believe it will keep the Democrats from getting their usual colored vote. There are between 6,000 and 7,000 negro voters in Marion county alone and about 20,000 in the state. They practically hold the balance of power. This is especially true here. At least a third of the negroes have stood by the Democrats in Marion county, and it has been said that Thomas Taggart could not have been elected mayor without them. But Burke in opening his speech said he was glad to be in a convention once more that was not marred by a single black face. The delegates and audience cheered themselves hoarse with approval. A little later Burke in declaring against direct primaries said the Democrats should make their nominations in conventions, "as this will keep the niggers out." He declared there were 7,000 "niggers" in Marion county against the Democrats.
"But let the Republicans keep them," he shouted. "The niggers have no business in the Democratic party. The Democrats fought to the last ditch to keep the Republican party from conferring the right of franchise on them.
They belong to the party that gave them this right, so let that party keep them." There has been a growing sentiment among the Democrats here against the negroes, and there has been much talk since last election of a "white man's party," so Burke's remarks generally are approved by the Democrats with the exception of a few party leaders who think he displayed poor politics to make such a speech at the opening of the campaign.

Representative Jesse Overstreet of this city was renominated today for congress by the Republicans of the Seventh district. His name appeared at the head of the ticket voted for at the primaries for the nomination of county candidates. He had no opposition and is the first man to be nominated for congress without a convention. Some of the oldtimers remarked that it seemed strange to make a nomination for congress without the usual flow of oratory and resolutions. Overstreet apparently has a strong hold on the district, although he is properly speaking a Johnson county man, as he only opened an office here three or four years after his first election, at which time he resided in Johnson county. The latter, by the last legislature, was placed in the Fourth district. Fortunately for Overstreet he had the forethought to claim Indianapolis as his place of residence, otherwise he would have been placed in a hopelessly Democratic district.

The Republicans of Marion county nominated their county ticket today after one of the fiercest campaigns ever held here. The nominations were made by direct primary for the first time. The candidates have for weeks been going through the same ordeal they have to endure before election day, and many have spent hundreds and some thousands of dollars. Nominations are especially desired by reason of the fact that a place on the Republican ticket here is now regarded as equivalent to an election. The indications were this afternoon that there would be over 20,000 votes cast, as a number of candidates have perfected organizations in every precinct for the purpose of bringing their friends to the polls. The voting places opened at 11 this forenoon and will close at 8 tonight. There are nearly 100 names on the county ticket and 31 for justice of peace in this township alone.

There is talk here now of holding an automobile race meet Decoration Day. The Indianapolis Automobile and Cycle Show association, which gave a successful entertainment here recently, has the matter under consideration and a program will probably be announced soon. That the people throughout the state are taking up with automobiles is evident by the record of one dealer here, who has sold over 40 high-priced vehicles in Indiana since the first of the year. Other dealers are also doing well. It is believed on this account that a race meet with the horseless carriages as attractions will prove a novel and profitable attraction.

Mrs. Soffel Indicted.

Pittsburg, March 14.—Indictments in three cases against Mrs. Catherine Soffel, wife of ex-Warden Peter K.
Soffel, growing out of the escape of the Biddle brothers from jail on Jan.
30, were considered by the grand jury yesterday and true bills returned.

Interrupted the Court.

Warsaw, Ind., March 14.—John Price, while on trial in court yesterday afternoon charged with having knocked his sweetheart down while drunk, stopped the proceedings by swallowing laudanum with suicidal intent. He will recover.

Wanted to Lynch Him.

Tyler, Tex., March 14.—L. L. Alfred, a well known farmer, was found murdered near Troupe Wednesday night.
Sim Daniel, a negro, has been arrested charged with the crime. A lynching was narrowly averted and excitement is still high.

CASES COMPROMISED

Two of the Suits Filed Against Gamblers By Ex-Cashier Davis Settled Out of Court.

Gamblers Have No Property Against Which Judgment Would Stand and Davis Did Well.

Washington, Ind., March 14.—Two of the suits filed by ex-Cashier Richard C. Davis against the gamblers, for alleged losses, were compromised last evening. The suit against John Brennan for $1,100 and the one against Charles Hart and John Brennan jointly for $2,200 were the ones settled. The gamblers agree to pay Davis $485 in settlement of the two claims amounting to $3,300.

Brennan and Hart have no property and nothing tangible, and on that account the settlement is generally considered a good one. The next trial in the Davis gambling cases will be against Addie Dillard for $7,700. It will come to trial next Wednesday at Vincennes.

HEROIC MOTHER

Warsaw Woman Rescues Her Child
At Great Peril to Her Life.

Warsaw, Ind., March 14.—The three-year-old child of Mrs. O. M. Graves, near this city, fell into a swollen stream running by the farmhouse, and the mother plunged after her infant in water eight feet deep. She was swept down, but she grabbed the child and with great difficulty reached the shore, falling unconscious on the bank.
The child was also unconscious, but both rallied an hour later and are now out of danger.

Uncle Sam Takes a Hand.

Indianapolis, March 14.—Mrs. C. A.
Williams was arrested at Shelbyville yesterday by Inspector Fletcher and Deputy Marshal Boyd and brought to this city on the charge of fraudulent use of the mails. It is charged that she had been working the "matrimon-ial scheme," and that she had been receiving letters at Shelbyville under various names, among which was Flavia Deerford. Under the latter name, it is said, she received and receipted for two money orders several days ago. In the Shelbyville office, it is said, 38 letters are now awaiting her, as she has not called for her letters for the last few days.

Martin Was Convicted.

English, Ind., March 14.—Frank Martin of Milltown, who went to the room of William Mills while Mills was asleep and cut the muscles of his right leg and otherwise injured him, has been convicted of attempted murder and stands committed to the reformatory under the indeterminate sentence act. Mills has recovered, but he is crippled for life.

Put Him Out of Business.

Elmore, Ind., March 14.—Frank Fitts walked into a saloon, revolver in hand, and fired a shot into the ceiling to convince those present that he was a warm proposition. Ed Jerrolds, the bartender, thereupon grabbed a billiard cut and struck Fitts on the ear, almost splitting that member in twain and putting him out of business.

Revealed the Leak.

Muncie, Ind., March 14.—William Shaffer, an employee of S. D. Frar, a baker and grocer, entered the cellar with a light, and there was an explosion of accumulated natural gas which wrecked the building and injured Shaffer. The damage is placed at $2,000.
The gas came from a broken pipe underneath the basement.

H d Gone On Mule Transport.

Elkhart, Ind., March 14.—Buel, the 15-year-old son of Mrs. Owen Davis, a widow living at Goshen, disappeared last fall and has just been heard from in a letter mailed at Cape Town, Africa, saying he had shipped on a mule transport from New Orleans and would come back by first steamer.

It Was Heard For Miles.

Rosedale, Ind., March 14.—During a storm lightning struck the powder magazine owned by the Parke County Coal company, causing the explosion of 90 kegs of powder. No one was injured, but the explosion was heard for miles around.

Will Raise Cats.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 14.—F. W.
Zimmerman is going to try the propagation of Angora cats on his farm in Noble county. He has purchased six of the finest animals procurable and placed them on the farm.

Old Merchant's Suicide.

Connersville, Ind., March 14.—Isaac years old, committed suicide by swallowing strychnine. He was despondent over the death of his wife, which occurred two years ago.

REMEMBER that the republicans of Jackson county elect delegates to the state convention tomorrow afternoon.

THE republicans of Indianapolis and Marion county are holding a primary election today to choose their county candidates. They are having a decidedly warm contest.

THE republicans of the First district did well to renominate Congressman Hemminger without opposition. He is now serving his fourth term in congress and is one of the ablest and most useful men in the house. Such men should be returned.

THE South Bend Tribune celebrated its thirtieth anniversary last Monday. The Tribune is one of the very best, if not the best paper in northern Indiana. Elmer Crockett, the president of the Tribune Company, is a splendid newspaper man.

THE character sketch of the late Benjamin Harrison by William Allen White in the March Cosmopolitan is worth reading. In this sketch the characteristics of one of the greatest and best Americans are set forth in a very interesting style.

EDITOR BRYAN has left his editorial sanctum and gone to Washington City to give advice to democrats and protest against the counsel of Hill, Gorman, et al in the make up of campaign committees. He is openly against the reorganizers and thinks that any democrat who did not subscribe to his platform in 1896 and 1900 and enter heartily in the campaign for him should not be trusted on committees.

THE statement of General Funston that Aguinaldo and other leaders would not have been hostile to the United States government after January, 1900, if they had not been made to believe that the majority of the American people were against their government, will attract attention as being along the same line as the letter of the dead General Lawton—Journal.

THERE is something serious in the plain living prospect when potatoes and apples of local origin become luxuries of greater price in this market than oranges and bananas shipped thousands of miles. There is something the matter with our producers, our soil workers, when they cannot supply the home demand in vegetables and fruit. It will not do to lay everything to the drought or to the seed or trees. A little more attention to these features of agriculturist's business is needed in this section of the country—South Bend Tribune.

BATTLE OF CORYDON.

Graphic Account of Morgan's Raid of Southern Indiana.

One of the most interesting curios in the state library has just been received by Geologist Blatchley, and will go among the state's choicest bits of literature. It is a copy of the Corydon Weekly Democrat of July 14, 1863, and contains an authentic account of the battle of Corydon, one of the two or three engagements on Indiana soil during the civil war, all of which were between the "home guards" and the freebooter force of the rebel general, John Morgan.

The paper also contains an account of the taking of Vicksburg and the three days' battle of Gettysburg. Among its other articles is an order by Gen. Wilcox declaring that secret organizations will be treated as against military policy, and a hint to delinquents to report their incomes for taxation. The account of the battle of Corydon, which occupies the most of the front page, was written by the editor, Simeon K. Wolfe, himself, and is as follows:

"Our town and community have been the scene of intense excitement during the whole of the past week in consequence of the invasion of the state at this point by the notorious guerrillas under the equally notorious John Morgan. A vast amount of damage by horse stealing and other plundering has been done which it is impossible for us to detail at the present time with any great degree of accuracy, but we think it is a safe estimate to put the loss to our citizens at least at $100,000.

"We will endeavor to give a reliable account of the raid from the time the rebels crossed at Brandenburg up to the time when they left Harrison county. But for the lack of due military organization and the consequent official information on many points, our details may not be in every particular correct, but the main features we know are correct, for we were present in the midst of some of the exciting scenes and have a very lively recollection of them; of the other matters we think we have reliable accounts.

FIGHT AT BRANDENBURG CROSSING.

"On Tuesday evening, July 7, the steambot T. J. McCombs landed at Brandenburg, and was immediately captured by Morgan's advance guard then in possession of the town. The McCombs was taken by the rebels to the middle of the river and there she hoisted a sign of distress. Soon after the Alice Dean, coming up, was hailed to give relief. For that purpose she approached the McCombs, and was thus also captured by the rebels. The news of the capture of these boats was communicated by some union men of Brandenburg to Lieut.-Col. William J. Irvin, of the Indiana legion, then at Mauckport. A short time after receiving this intelligence, the Lady Pike coming up, was hailed by Col. Irvin, at Mauckport, and turned back to Leavenworth for a six-pound gun and assistance; a dispatch was also sent to Col. Jordan, at Corydon, for reinforcements to intercept the rebels crossing. At midnight the Lady Pike returned with the Leavenworth gun and a small company to man it under command of Capt. Lyons and Col. Woodbury.

Before daylight on Wednesday morning, the gun was in position on the bank opposite Brandenburg, and as soon as daylight and the disappearance of the fog would render it practicable the gun was directed by Col. Irvin to be fired upon the boilers of the vessels, with a view of sinking or disabling them and thus prevent the crossing of the raiders.

This command, we are informed by Col. Irvin, was countermanded by Provost Marshal John Timberlake, who claimed precedence in command on the occasion, and an order was given by the latter officer to shell the rebel cavalry on the bank. Another and different version, however, of this matter, we understand, is given by Provost Timberlake, but, we have not been able to see him and obtain it.

This shelling was done for a short time with some success, causing the rascals to skedaddle to the rear of the town in fine style, but before getting out of the way some 30 of them were killed and wounded. Soon, however, after our gun opened fire, two rebel batteries, one at the court house at Brandenburg, and the other toward the lower part of town, began to play with terrific force upon our guns with shells, making it too hot for our boys to hold their position. They abandoned the gun but afterward retook it and carried it further to the rear. The rebel infantry from the Kentucky shore, also kept up a brisk fire across our forces; and our infantry, consisting of Capt. Farquhar's, Huffman's and Hoy's companies of the legion, in all not exceeding 100 men, returned the fire briskly.

But the superior artillery force of the enemy soon compelled our small force to abandon the gun again, and then under the cover of his batteries the enemy began to cross their thieving forces to the Indiana side. Our boys held the ground as long as it was prudent or safe in the face of the forces coming against them and then returned.

In this gallant little fight we lost two men killed and three or four wounded. The killed were, Goria Nance, of Laconia, and James Curran, of Kith township. Capt. Farquhar was pretty badly injured by his horse running him against a tree. The names of our wounded in this fight we have been unable to obtain.

SKIRMISHING ON THE ROAD.

"Failing in the effort to prevent the rebels crossing, Col. Irvin and Provost Timberlake ordered the men to fall back on the road to Corydon and by skirmishing and felling trees to obstruct the passage of the enemy as much as possible until reinforcements with artillery could be had from New Albany, to which place dispatches were repeatedly sent for help; but for some reason, which we hope the authorities of that post will be able to explain, we never got a man or a gun.

"Not deterred, however, by this neglect, or the overpowering forces in our front, the people went to work and by great exertions a force of home guards and citizens, numbering about 300 effective men, got together, on Wednesday evening, and marched on the Mauckport road to skirmish with the enemy and impede his progress as much as possible. The main body of these, under command of Col. Jordan, went as far as Glenn's house, four miles south of Corydon. Here the infantry remained until about 10 o'clock at night and returned to the neighborhood of Corydon, while the cavalry of mounted citizens, to the number of over 100 men, were sent on the roads running south of Corydon as scouts to watch the operations of the enemy. Several small engagements between the skirmishers occurred
